

Chapter One

Friends Reunite

14-year-old Hermione Jane Granger was sitting on the couch in her living room in her muggle home. It was summer vacation and she would be going back to Hogwarts in a week.

Hermione couldn't wait to go back...she missed all of her friends there. Also she missed her studies. She missed, Harry, Ron, Neville, Lavender and also her best friend Ginny.

Hermione and Ginny have been best friends since Hermione was 7 and Ginny was 6. They treated each other like sisters.

Hermione knew that she would be seeing Ginny in a week...but she missed her best friend too much. Hermione went upstairs in her bedroom and saw a picture on her nightstand.

It was a picture of Hermione, Ginny, Ron, Harry and Sirius in his black dog form. Hermione remembered that her mom took the picture.

It was the summer and they were all spending the summer at Hermione's house.

She remembered teaching Ron and Ginny how to play volleyball, a muggle sport. Ginny understood...but Ron didn't. This was the summer about a year ago when Hermione was 13 and Ginny was 12.

Ginny was now 13. Hermione sighed and set the picture down on the nightstand.

She had the house to herself as usual because her parents were at the dentist place working.

Then Hermione heard a knock at the door. "Coming", said Hermione as she brushed her bushy brown hair out of her face.

Hermione opened the front door and saw...her best friend Ginny Weasley. She looked horrible. Her eyes were red and puffy as if she was crying badly. And she was shaking terribly. She also looked petrified...as if some thing was about to attack her.

“Ginny! What’s wrong?” asked Hermione worriedly. “Here...come in”, said Hermione letting Ginny in the house. “Gin...what happened?” asked Hermione concerned as she let her friend sit on the sofa and got Ginny a glass of water.

“Ginny...what’s wrong?” asked Hermione as she sat next to Ginny. “I had no where else to go...”, cried Ginny as she started crying badly.

“I tried to go to my mom’s house...when I told her what was wrong...she kicked me out! She said she didn’t want to put up with me!” sobbed Ginny as she cried harder.

Hermione hugged Ginny tightly to comfort her. “Shhhh...it’s all right Gin. Why would your mom say something like that?!” said Hermione as she patted the younger girl’s hair.

“Because...I’m...I’m pregnant!” cried Ginny sobbing heavily. Hermione was silent for a minute. ‘Ginny’s only 13! She’s way too young to be pregnant, give birth and raise a baby!’ thought Hermione worriedly.

“Gin...who’s the father?” asked Hermione. “He...r-r-raped me!” cried Ginny sobbing heavily. Hermione’s heart sank. Her very own best friend was raped and got pregnant at such a young age.

“Oh dear God! Ginny sweetie! You poor girl!” cried Hermione as she rubbed Ginny’s back. “Who...raped you?” asked Hermione concerned and also dieing to get her hands around the man’s throat who did this to Ginny.

“Draco Malfoy”, replied Ginny shakily.

“Oh...that evil...bastard!” yelled Hermione angrily. Ginny winced slightly. “It’s all right Gin! I’m not mad at you Ginny. I’m going to kill that Malfoy”, said Hermione.

They hugged again. "Gin...are you going to keep the baby?" asked Hermione. Ginny nodded while wiping her eyes. "Of course...but I'm going to need all the help I can get...", cried Ginny. "I promise Gin...I will help you", soothed Hermione.

"You will Mione?" asked Ginny. Hermione nodded and hugged Ginny tightly. "Of course Ginny! You're my best friend! I love you Gin!" cried Hermione.

"I love you too Hermione! You're the best friend in the world!" sobbed Ginny.

By night, Hermione got dinner for Ginny and also let her sleep in the guestroom.

Hermione and Ginny were sitting in the living room on the couch. Ginny was very silent. "Ginny...are you all right?" asked Hermione concerned.

Ginny nodded. "Hermione...thank you...for taking me and my unborn baby in", said Ginny. Hermione smiled and held Ginny's hand.

"Mione, will they let me stay here?!" asked Ginny, getting scared. "I don't know...", started Hermione.

Then her father came in. "Hermione, I see you have a friend over!" said her father.

"Well...dad, can she stay here with us until we go back to Hogwarts?" asked Hermione. "Why?" asked her father a little rudely.

"Because...she was kicked out of her own home because...she's pregnant", said Hermione. "What! No...she is not allowed to stay here. That is out of the picture!" snapped Hermione's father.

"But dad! We'll only have to stay here for a week! Then we'll be out of your pocket!" yelled Hermione.

"No...this girl got herself in this mess. She doesn't need any help. She needs to learn a lesson", yelled her father madly.

Hermione stood up. "FOR YOUR INFORMATION, GINNY WAS RAPED! GET IT?! SHE WASN'T IN ON IT!" screamed Hermione.

"Don't you dare raise your voice to me young lady!" snapped her father. "IF YOU WON'T LET GINNY STAY HERE, THEN I'M LEAVING TOO!" screamed Hermione.

Hermione packed some clothes and food and helped a crying Ginny out of the house and in no time they were far away from there.

"H-Hermione...where are we going to go before we can go back to Hogwarts?" asked Ginny shakily.

"Shhhh...it's all right Gin, we'll go to a hotel. I have some money to check in for a week. We'll stay there until it's time to go back to Hogwarts", soothed Hermione as she hugged Ginny to comfort her.

After what seemed like an eternal walk, they made it to the hotel.

"Yes?" asked the lady at the front desk. "My name is Hermione Granger, and this is my friend Ginny Weasley. We'd like to rent a room for a week", said Hermione.

"Of course. But the price is quite a lot", said the lady. "I realize that. I got the money", said Hermione. "Where's your parents?" asked the lady.

"Well, my best friend Ginny was raped and now she's pregnant and we were going to stay at my parents house but they didn't want to put up with it so until we go back to Hogwarts, that's a school for magical people, we have to find a place to stay", explained Hermione.

"I see...your going to go through all of this just for this girl?" asked the lady. "She's more then just some girl. She's my best friend! I would do anything to help her", said Hermione.

“Well, Miss. Ginny, you have quite a friend there”, said the lady.

"You're room number is 376. Here's the key", said the lady.

Hermione held Ginny's hand and they walked up to the room.

Author's Note: So, what did ya think!??!" It's going to get much better! Trust me on that! It's going to be 7 chapters total. There is going to be a sequel. I was planning on all of this for a few weeks so, it's kinda already planned out. I'll be updating as soon as my fingers get a break from typing! PLEASE REVIEW!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!! ## Chapter Two

Returning to Hogwarts

It's been a whole week since Hermione and Ginny checked into the hotel. It was 7:04 AM. Ginny was still sleeping in bed. "Gin, wake up", whispered Hermione to her best friend.

"What time is it Mione?" asked Ginny tiredly. "7:04", replied Hermione as she patted Ginny's hair.

"Why so early Hermione?" asked Ginny as she sat up. "Because, we go back to Hogwarts today Gin", said Hermione. "Oh! Okay...", said Ginny.

When they left the hotel, they went to the train station to get on the Hogwarts Express. They had their wands, books and everything else they needed.

Hermione was a bit worried about Ginny carrying the heavy truck by herself. Even though Ginny was only almost a month pregnant, Hermione was already starting to worry since Ginny was so young.

"Ginny...maybe I should carry that for you", said Hermione concerned. "I'm fine Mione...", said Ginny smiling. By night, when they were on the train, Hermione and Ginny saw Ron walk by.

"Ron...", started Ginny. "I'm sorry Ginny...mom won't let me talk to you...because of you being pregnant", said Ron sadly.

"Why is mom acting like this?!" cried Ginny as she started sobbing heavily. "I can't even talk to my own brother!" cried Ginny.

Hermione hugged Ginny to comfort her. "Shhhh, it's all right Ginny...", soothed Hermione as she patted Ginny's hair. Hermione couldn't believe how heartless Mrs. Weasley was to her only daughter.

'How could a sweet lady like Mrs. Weasley be so heartless and terrible to Ginny!?' thought Hermione as she rocked Ginny back and fourth.

After many hours, they arrived to Hogwarts. When they were in the castle and in the girls' dormitory after the feast in the Great Hall, Hermione and Ginny were talking about the baby.

"Hermione...will the hospital wing be able to help me throughout this pregnancy and help me give birth?" asked Ginny. Hermione nodded while taking a drink of pumpkin juice she brought up from the feast.

"Yes. In fact I already told Madam Pomfrey everything...she said that you and the baby will be in good hands", said Hermione smiling.

"What about a nursery Mione?" asked Ginny. "Ginny sweetie, you don't have to worry. Professor Dumbledore said that before the baby comes he'll have a room set up for just you and your baby", said Hermione.

"Ok. But how will we afford baby bottles, toys, a crib and many more things?" asked Ginny.

"We'll manage", said Hermione. "Let's get some sleep Gin. It's been a long day", said Hermione. Ginny got in her bed and snuggled under the covers. Hermione got in her bed and got under the covers.

"Goodnight Ginny", said Hermione. "Night Mione", said Ginny.

"Hermione...everything will be all right, will it?" asked Ginny. Hermione looked at Ginny. "Of course! You'll make it throughout this pregnancy and I'll help you. Ginny, you will have a beautiful healthy baby", soothed Hermione.

Ginny nodded and fell asleep.

Hermione looked at Ginny. 'I know what I'll do! When we find out if Ginny's having a girl or a boy, I'll surprise her with the most beautiful nursery!' thought Hermione happily.

Even though everything seemed to be going well...things would change soon...

Author's Note: OK, I know it's a bit short, so please don't remind me! I'll be updating soon. The third chapter should be a bit longer than this. PLEASE REVIEW!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!! Go easy on me though!

Six Months later

Six whole months have passed...Ginny was six months pregnant. Hermione was taking very good care of her friend. Ginny had a round swollen stomach so it was getting hard for her to climb the stairs in the castle.

Today was a special day though, it was the day Hermione and Ginny go to find out if Ginny's baby is a girl or a boy. Hermione was looking forward to it...because she and Lavender wanted to start planning a surprise baby shower for Ginny.

Also, Hermione wanted to surprise Ginny on the day of her baby shower, with the most beautiful nursery.

It was 12:46 PM and Hermione went up to the Gryffindor Tower and walked in the common room and saw Ginny resting on the couch reading a book.

"Hi Gin", said Hermione as she patted Ginny's hair. "Hello Mione", said Ginny. "How are you feeling Ginny sweetie?" asked Hermione as she sat next to Ginny and rubbed Ginny's belly.

"I'm okay...just a bit tired", said Ginny smiling. "Well, today we get to find out if you're having a girl or boy!" said Hermione happily.

"What time do we go?" asked Ginny. "Actually, right now", said Hermione as she helped Ginny stand up.

Ginny smiled. "I really hope I'm having a girl!" said Ginny. "What if you're having a boy?" asked Hermione as they held hands while walking to the hospital wing. "If that's the case. I'll teach him never to rape a girl or get a teenage girl pregnant!" said Ginny.

Hermione smiled. "You'll be a great mom Gin", said Hermione. "Hermione...", started Ginny. "Yeah?" asked Hermione. "In case...something happened to me after the baby is born...promise me that you'll take care of my baby", said Ginny.

Hermione was silent for a minute. "Of course I'll take care of your baby! But...Gin sweetie, nothing is going to happen to you! I know your very young...but everything will be all right", said Hermione as she hugged Ginny.

"I know...", said Ginny smiling. Then they walked in the hospital wing.

"Madam Pomfrey, we're here", said Hermione. "Ah, Ginny Weasley", said Madam Pomfrey.

"Come over here on this bed...", said Madam Pomfrey. Ginny got on the bed. "Now...", started Madam Pomfrey. But then they heard a beeping noise.

It was Hermione's beeper to let her know it was time for class. "Oh no! I have class! But...I don't want to leave you Ginny!" cried Hermione.

Ginny smiled and held Hermione's hand. "It's okay Mione...you go to class. I'll be all right", said Ginny smiling. Hermione nodded and gave Ginny a sisterly hug.

"I'll be in Snape's class", said Hermione. Ginny nodded. After Hermione left, about 20 minutes later, Hermione was in Snape's classroom studying on potions when she saw Ginny come in.

"Hermione!" said Ginny happily. She looked so happy. "Come here!" said Ginny. Hermione smiled. "Professor Snape, can I have a 3 minute break?" asked Hermione.

Snape looked very annoyed. "I suppose...but only 3 minutes", said Snape coolly.

Hermione got up and left the classroom.

"Ginny! Well, what did Madam Pomfrey say?" asked Hermione happily.

"It's a girl!" cried Ginny happily. "Oh Ginny! A baby girl to raise!" cried Hermione happily as she hugged Ginny carefully.

After a few days, Hermione and Lavender were out shopping in Hogsmead.

“Lavender, I found out Ginny’s having a girl!” said Hermione happily. “We should start shopping for her baby”, said Lavender happily.

They went to a shop and bought some cute baby girl clothes, baby bottles, some baby toys, blankets and also a few other things.

“Lavender, look at this pink teddy bear!” said Hermione. The teddy bear was pink and said on it “Baby Girl”. “We should get it!” said Lavender.

Hermione nodded. “I want to get a few special things for Ginny too”, said Hermione. Lavender nodded.

After a few weeks, Hermione was making some money to buy a baby girl crib and a changing table and also a rocking chair for Ginny to rock her baby to sleep, and a baby swing.

“What kind of cake should we have for the baby shower?” asked Lavender. “Hmmm, maybe a chocolate cake. Ginny loves chocolate”, said Hermione.

“What kind of decoration?” asked Lavender. “How about it should have pink icing and we’ll have rubber duckies and teddy bears decorated on it. You know, made out of cake icing”, said Hermione. “What will we write on it?” asked Lavender.

Hermione thought for a minute. “I know! It can say “To the Best Mommy in the World and to the Most Beautiful Baby Girl in the world!” said Hermione happily. “Perfect!” said Lavender.

“What color balloons?” asked Hermione. “How about...pink and yellow?” asked Lavender. “That would be beautiful!” said Hermione.

A few days later, Dumbledore had Ginny’s room set up. All it contained so far was a very comfortable bed for Ginny and a nightstand with a lantern for light and also a dresser with clothes.

Chapter Four

Baby Shower and the Nursery

A couple more months have passed...Ginny was currently 8 months pregnant. She had a rather large swollen stomach and Hermione was taking very good care of Ginny.

Lavender and Hermione were looking forward to surprise Ginny with the baby shower and the nursery.

It was a Tuesday and the night before Hermione and Lavender baked the adorable cake for the baby shower.

Ginny was in Muggle Studies class while Hermione and Lavender set up the balloons in the common room. "Hey Hermione, what did you get Ginny?" asked Lavender.

"Well...I got her a pair of two white teddy bears. One says 'Daughter' and the other says 'Mother'", said Hermione smiling. "That's cute! I got Ginny a bracelet that says 'Best Mom Ever'", said Lavender.

"What time should we surprise her?" asked Lavender as she tied two pink balloons and one yellow balloon together. "Well, it's 10:06 AM. How about noon?" asked Hermione.

"Okay", said Lavender.

Around 11:53 AM, Ginny was in the Great Hall. Hermione walked in. "Gin sweetie, I want you to meet me and Lavender in the common room at noon", said Hermione.

"Okay Mione. Um, is there a special reason?" asked Ginny. "It's a surprise Ginny", said Hermione smiling.

Hermione walked back up to the Gryffindor common room. She shut all the lanterns off and the fireplace so that it would be dark.

Then she and Lavender saw Ginny walk in. Hermione pulled out her wand and turned on the fireplace and all the lanterns.

“SURPRISE!!!” shouted Hermione and Lavender. “What is all this?” asked Ginny both happy and surprised. “Well, for a few months now, we’ve been planning a surprise baby shower!” said Hermione happily.

Ginny looked and saw all the cute pink and yellow balloons and the beautiful cake and all the gifts. “Oh Mione! You and Lavender did all of this just for me?” asked Ginny.

Hermione nodded. Ginny smiled and gave both Lavender and Hermione a hug. “Thank you”, said Ginny. “No thanks needed. We love you Ginny”, said Hermione.

“Now, what would you like to do first Gin? Eat cake or open presents?” asked Hermione. “Um, I think eat cake first”, said Ginny smiling.

“Okay. I’m hungry myself”, said Hermione. After eating, Ginny was opening her gifts, she got all the things she needed for the baby and also the pink teddy bear and the bracelet Lavender got Ginny.

Next, Ginny opened the gift that was the pair of teddy bears that said mother and daughter on them. “Hermione, thank you so much!” said Ginny happily.

“Now, let’s show you the big surprise Gin”, said Hermione.

They walked up the stairs and walked up to the door that was the entrance to Ginny and the baby’s room. “Now, close your eyes Ginny sweetie”, said Hermione. Ginny nodded and closed her eyes.

Lavender opened the bedroom door. “Now, open!” said Hermione. Ginny opened her eyes and saw the adorable baby girl crib and the baby swing and the changing table and the rocking chair.

“Oh Hermione! This is so perfect!” cried Ginny happily. “Thank you Mione. For thinking of me and the baby”, said Ginny.

“Ginny, you’re like a sister to me! I love you Gin!” said Hermione. Ginny started crying with tears of happiness and hugged Hermione tightly.

After the long day, Hermione and Ginny spent the rest of the evening talking about baby names and also Hermione loved feeling Ginny’s stomach to feel the baby kicking.

Author’s Note: OK, I know it’s a bit short so please don’t remind me! I’ll be updating soon. The next chapter will be when the drama starts. REVIEW!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!! Go easy on me though!

Chapter Five

Sudden Labor and Worries

One month have passed, Ginny was nine months pregnant and due anytime now.

Ginny was sleeping in her bedroom. It was around midnight. Ginny was tossing and turning in bed...she was having a horrible nightmare.

GINNY'S NIGHTMARE.....

"You know Ginny, I'm getting sick and tired of taking care of you", snapped Hermione. "What!?" cried Ginny, feeling hurt.

"I don't think we should be friends anymore", said Hermione as she walked off.

Ginny started crying badly...she was all alone...on the hogwarts grounds. Nightfall came and Ginny felt horrible pain in her stomach...she was in labor!

END OF NIGHTMARE

Ginny sat right, up, her face covered in sweat and she looked around scared to death. "Gin sweetie! Are you okay?!" cried Hermione worriedly as she sat on the bed next to Ginny.

Ginny didn't answer at first she was so scared. "Oh my God! Ginny, is it the baby!?" asked Hermione concerned as she placed her hand on Ginny's belly.

Ginny came to her senses realizing she just had a nightmare.

"Oh Hermione! I just had a horrible nightmare!" cried Ginny as she started crying badly. Hermione pulled Ginny into a sisterly hug.

“Shhhh, it’s okay Ginny”, soothed Hermione as she rocked Ginny back and fourth. “In the dream...you didn’t want to be my friend anymore and you said...you were sick of taking care of me! And I was alone on the hogwarts grounds and I went into labor...”, sobbed Ginny.

Hermione hugged her friend tighter. “It’s all right Gin! I would NEVER say such horrible things! I love you Ginny!” cried Hermione as she rubbed Ginny’s swollen stomach.

After a few hours, Hermione got Ginny back to sleep.

By the next day Ginny and Hermione were in the bedroom talking about baby names.

“How about...Katie?” asked Ginny. “That’s up to you Gin”, said Hermione smiling. “Well...how about...Amy?” asked Hermione.

“Hmmm...it’s a pretty name. I’ll think about it”, said Ginny.

Ginny then put her hand on her swelling stomach. “Gin? Are you okay?” asked Hermione concerned. Ginny nodded. “Yep. The baby is just kicking again”, said Ginny smiling.

Hermione smiled and placed her hand gently on Ginny’s large stomach. Sure enough, she felt the baby kicking. “I can’t wait until she comes!” said Hermione happily. “I can’t wait ether!” said Ginny smiling.

“Ginny? What’s wrong?!” cried Hermione worried about her friend. “Hermione! This could be...it!” cried Ginny.

Hermione realized what the younger girl meant. Ginny was in labor! “Oh God! All right, stay calm Gin! Let’s get you to the hospital wing!” cried Hermione anxiously as she helped Ginny stand.

Ginny felt terrible pain in her stomach...but it was far worse than pain. Ginny did realize that she was young and it was her first pregnancy...but something didn't feel right.

"Hermione...!" cried Ginny.

"What is it?" asked Hermione concerned. "I think...something's wrong!" cried Ginny. "It's just the contractions Gin", said Hermione as she was struggling a little to support Ginny to stand.

"No...it's really painful...like I'm being torn apart inside!" cried Ginny as she screamed in pain. "Oh my God! All right, we really have to get you to the hospital wing now!" said Hermione as she helped Ginny toward the door that was the exit out of the bedroom and the entrance to the common room.

"Breathe Gin", encouraged Hermione. Ginny started getting scared and started to cry. "Hermione...I don't want to lose my baby!" cried Ginny suddenly.

"Sweetie, your baby is going to be just fine", soothed Hermione. "But...something is wrong! I can feel it!" cried Ginny tears streaming down her face.

"Let's get to the hospital wing! Madam Pomfrey will know what to do. Can you walk Ginny?" asked Hermione worriedly.

"I'm not sure...", cried Ginny. Hermione started to support Ginny to walk...but Ginny couldn't. She was in too much pain.

"Hermione...I need to sit down...it hurts so bad!" cried Ginny as she clutched her belly. "Shhhh, it will be all right Gin", soothed Hermione as she led Ginny to the bed.

Once Hermione had Ginny seated on the comfortable bed...Hermione knew she had to go get help. "Ginny...listen...I'm going to go get help. Keep breathing Gin...I'll be right back", said Hermione.

Chapter Six

Birth and Death

Previous Chapter

Hermione hugged Ginny and left and went straight to the hospital wing. "Madam Pomfrey! You need to come to Ginny's bedroom! It's an emergency!" cried Hermione, her heart pounding with fear of leaving Ginny alone.

End of Previous Chapter

"What's going on Hermione?" asked Madam Pomfrey. "Ginny's about to have the baby...she's in a lot of pain. I think something might be wrong...she keeps saying that something doesn't feel right and she can't even walk...", cried Hermione, talking fast.

"Oh dear! Okay...let me just get some medical supplies for birthing and we'll head right there", said Madam Pomfrey quickly as she got a kit that contained towels and other things needed for births.

Once they arrived, Ginny was laying down on the bed, breathing deeply. She looked like she was in a lot of pain. "Ginny! We're here", soothed Hermione as she hugged Ginny carefully.

"Ginny...how far apart are the contractions dear?" asked Madam Pomfrey as she felt Ginny's stomach. "2 minutes apart...", replied Ginny as she felt another contraction hit.

"That means it's already time to push...Hermione, hold Ginny's hand", said Madam Pomfrey. "Come on Ginny...push!" encouraged Madam Pomfrey.

Ginny pushed with all her might. After about an hour...the baby still wasn't born...Ginny was weak and tired and in pain from pushing for so long.

Ginny pushed again with all her might...they finally saw the baby's head come out. "Ginny! It's coming!" cried Hermione happily. "Ginny! Oh my God! Ginny look!" cried Hermione.

Ginny looked between her legs and saw the baby emerging out of her. Ginny pushed with all her might and felt the baby slip out.

Then they heard the baby crying. Ginny fell back on the bed, breathing deeply. "Ginny! Oh my God! Ginny, you did it! You had a baby!" cried Hermione as tears streamed down Hermione's face.

Hermione's best friend actually gave birth! Hermione was so happy for Ginny. "Gin, open your eyes!" whispered Hermione as she held Ginny's hand.

Ginny opened her eyes...and saw her beautiful healthy baby. "It's a girl!" cried Madam Pomfrey as she cleaned the baby off and handed her to Ginny.

"Oh! She's so beautiful!" cried Ginny as she held her baby close. "Mione, isn't she precious?" asked Ginny. "She's very precious! She looks so much like you Gin!" said Hermione happily.

"What are you going to name this little angel?" asked Hermione. Ginny thought for a minute. "I'm naming her Ashley", said Ginny.

"Hermione...if it wasn't for you...I wouldn't have made it on my own", said Ginny. "Ginny...you're my best friend! I would never have let you have a baby all on your own!" cried Hermione as she hugged Ginny carefully.

About 2 more hours later...Hermione was holding Ashley while Ginny slept...however, Hermione then saw Madam Pomfrey walk up to her, looking very sad and anxious.

"Hermione...I have some terrible news...it's about Ginny", said Madam Pomfrey. Hermione's heart sank and she placed the baby in the crib carefully.

"What happened?" asked Hermione worriedly. "When Ginny was giving birth...remember how it took a whole hour for Ginny to push the baby out?" asked Madam Pomfrey.

Hermione nodded anxiously. "Hermione...because Ginny is only 13 and her body is still too weak and small to handle such a long birth because of the complications...I'm afraid Ginny doesn't have much more time to live", said Madam Pomfrey sadly.

Hermione's heart sank and she felt tears stream down her face. She couldn't lose her best friend...Ginny was just like a sister to Hermione.

"Can't you help her?! Isn't there a potion or something?!" cried Hermione. "I'm afraid not...Ginny only has a few more minutes", said Madam Pomfrey.

Hermione went in to see Ginny. "Gin...", started Hermione. Ginny looked as pale as a ghost. She was shaking slightly and looked so weak and tired.

"Hermione...", started Ginny weakly. Hermione walked over and held her friend's hand. "Oh Ginny...why!?" cried Hermione as she started sobbing heavily.

Ginny patted Hermione's bushy hair. "Mione, please don't cry...it just hurts me to see you cry", said Ginny. Hermione wiped her eyes and looked up at Ginny.

"I'll never forget you Hermione...you helped me in so many ways. I love you with all my heart. You were always like a sister to me. A special sister to love, to comfort, to protect, to heal and to someday say goodbye to", said Ginny.

"Ginny...you are like a sister to me too! I love you Ginny!" cried Hermione sobbing heavily. "Hermione sweetie, before I go...promise me something", said Ginny softly.

Hermione nodded. "Please take care of Ashley. Treat her like she was your own baby. Be her mother and love her, can you do that for me?" asked Ginny.

Hermione started crying more and carefully hugged her best friend. "Of course! I will always take good care of your baby and love her!" sobbed Hermione.

Hermione held onto her best friend and didn't let go for many minutes...and finally she noticed that Ginny was very limp...and that her eyes were closed. Hermione felt Ginny's chest with her hand...there was no heartbeat.

"Ginny! Please don't leave me!" cried Hermione as she hugged Ginny's unresponsive body.

After staying by Ginny's side for nearly an hour, Madam Pomfrey came in. "She's...gone!" cried Hermione sobbing heavily.

The day of Ginny's funeral, Hermione, Harry, Neville, Hagrid, Lavender and even Madam Pomfrey were there.

A few weeks later, Hermione was holding Ashley and Ashley was drinking out of the baby bottle.

Hermione was sitting in the rocking chair while bottle-feeding Ashley. Hermione looked at the baby. The baby was so adorable...so beautiful. She looked just like Ginny.

"You know Ashley, you look just like your mommy", whispered Hermione to the baby. "Ashley, I loved your mommy so much...if I could bring her back to you...God knows I would", whispered Hermione to the baby.

After Ashley was done with her bottle, the baby started playing with Hermione's hair. "You're a good girl Ashley...just like your mommy was", said Hermione.

Hermione sighed, fighting back tears and placed the sleeping baby in the crib. Hermione sat on the bed.

She remembered so many memories:

'Are you sure you're feeling okay Gin sweetie?' asked Hermione.

"Yep...I'm fine Mione. The baby's not due for another 4 months!" replied Ginny smiling.

End of Memories

Hermione took the picture and hugged it to her chest tightly. "I love you Gin sweetie!" cried Hermione, tears streaming down her face.

Author's Note: ‘sob’! I’m so evil! I couldn’t help it though...besides if I wouldn’t have done this, there wouldn’t have been a sequel. PLEASE REVIEW!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!! Go easy on me!!!

Chapter Seven

I'm Going to Kill Malfoy

Hermione was on the bed fast asleep. She cried herself to sleep all night. She missed Ginny too much. Then she heard a baby crying.

Hermione woke up and opened her eyes and sat up. "I'm coming Ashley", said Hermione tiredly. Hermione got up and picked the baby up and cradled her in Hermione's arms.

Hermione sat in the rocking chair, still holding the baby. "Shhhh, it's all right Ashley. Are you hungry sweetie?" asked Hermione to the baby.

Hermione smiled and got a baby bottle filled with formula and held it close to the baby. The baby started drinking out of it.

"You are a sweet little angel", whispered Hermione to the baby. After Ashley was done with her bottle, Hermione changed Ashley and afterwards, Hermione held the baby and rocked back and fourth gently in the rocking chair.

Ashley was holding her teddy bear.

The next few days, Hermione couldn't stop thinking of Ginny.

Ginny was so sweet, cute and Hermione knew that Ginny would have became a good mom. Hermione didn't understand why this had to happen. "Why?! Why did this have to happen to Ginny?!" cried Hermione.

Hermione then realized if Malfoy wouldn't have raped Ginny...none of this would have happened.

Hermione walked down the corridor and saw Malfoy talking with his friends. Hermione took a deep breath and ran over.

Hermione pulled out her wand. "I'll KILL you for what you did to Ginny!" yelled Hermione as she pointed her wand at Malfoy's chest.

"What are you talking about mudblood?" snapped Malfoy. Hermione put her wand away. Hermione then punched Malfoy in the mouth and jumped on him and started punching and hitting him.

"You damn evil bastard!!!! You killed her!" yelled Hermione as she was hitting Malfoy so much that he was bleeding.

Malfoy reached in his pocket and pulled out his wand and shot it off. "REDUCTO!!!!" yelled Malfoy. The spell hit Hermione and she went flying through the air.

Her back hit the hard stonewall. Malfoy kicked Hermione's stomach and pulled out a knife. "Go on! Give me your best shot Malfoy! I know what you did to Ginny. And now...she's dead!" yelled Hermione.

Malfoy smiled evilly and stabbed Hermione in the stomach...he pulled the knife out, causing her to bleed to death. But then Harry came over. "Malfoy! What the hell are you doing to her?!?!?" snapped Harry as he punched Malfoy knocking him out.

Harry rushed to Hermione's side. "Hermione...!" cried Harry worriedly as he examined the wound in Hermione's stomach. "Oh God! Mione, the wound is deep...we have to get to the hospital wing!" cried Harry.

"Hermione, why was Malfoy trying to hurt you?" asked Harry as he helped Hermione up. "Because...he killed....Ginny", said Hermione...as she was struggling badly to not fall unconscious.

"Shhhh, we'll talk about it afterwards....you'll be all right Hermione. Hang in there", said Harry. When they arrived to the hospital wing, Madam Pomfrey had to transport Hermione and Harry to St. Mungos hospital.

The healers got Hermione on a stretcher and wheeled her to the emergency room.

Harry was in the waiting room. Then he saw a healer come out. “How is she?!” asked Harry worriedly. “She’s going to be all right...she did lose a large amount of blood. But she’s going to be okay”, said the healer.

Harry sighed with relief. Then he saw Lavender come in with little Ashley.

"I heard about Hermione...I got here as soon as I could", gasped Lavender. "Is Hermione going to be okay?!" asked Lavender.

Harry nodded. “She’ll be fine”, said Harry. After an hour Hermione woke up, and she saw Harry come in.

“Hermione, how are you?” asked Harry. “I’m okay...just a bit weak”, replied Hermione. Harry handed Ashley to Hermione.

“This little infant was wondering where you were”, teased Harry. Hermione smiled down at the baby. “She looks so much like Ginny”, said Hermione softly as she held the baby close.

“Harry...I don't care how dangerous Malfoy is. I'm going to kill him for what he did to Ginny”, said Hermione. “Hermione...I know it's hard to lose Ginny. But...I don't think a sweet girl like you would kill anyone”, said Harry.

“No...I think I would kill Malfoy”, said Hermione.

Harry knew that Hermione was still upset over the death of Ginny. He hoped that Hermione wouldn't go off and kill Malfoy though...she would get in a lot of trouble.
